Homepage

Workshop on biodiversity - WWF Hamburg

Valentin CHAPUT
12/03/2021 19:15 • 0 comments

Biodiversity is at risk. 60% of the living species are threatened with extinction. The WWF Amsterdam invites you to an in-depth discussion on combating the effects of the Anthropocene. The meeting is limited to 20 people, but we will make sure a team link works live. The conversation will take place in German with an English translation.

Meeting report

This meeting was very fruitful. We were about thirty participants, from 16 to 56 years old. We talked about our consumption habits on the Internet and our different connected devices.

Many participants wondered about how to reduce emissions, even if some sacrifices seem hard to make when the service offers are becoming more and more attractive and efficient for video streaming and cloud gaming.

We shared this video and reacted by listing three actions we were willing to take to reduce our digital carbon footprint.

Co-Creation and distributed leadership, are organizational answer to the complexity of the context organizations work in. The complexity, volatility and extreme knowledge intensiveness created the need to include all possible expertise, experience and energy in the strategic decisions and the day to day implementation of those.

In the wake of the pandemic, the EU should focus on the revalorisation of this profession. Nurses have demonstrated incredible courage throughout the pandemic, and the trauma they experienced will take a toll on current healthcare professionals. Furthermore, there are huge disparities across EU member states (for example, Finland has more than double the amount of nurses per 100,000 inhabitants relative to Greece). Not only in nursing, but possibilities for other professions (or receive special incentives) between EU member-states, to encourage a program would be a great way to attract more people during their careers.

Wspieranie kobiet w branży technologicznej

Barbara OSP

01/03/2021 08:24 0 comments

W sektorze technologicznym istnieje znaczna dysproporcja pomiędzy liczbą pracujących w tej branży kobiet i mężczyzn. Ważne jest, aby móc zaoferować więcej stypendiów i kursów szkoleniowych przeznaczonych specjalnie dla kobiet. Mogłoby to zachęcić dziewczęta do podjęcia kariery w branży IT i doprowadzić do większej równowagi płci w tym sektorze.
